Watery BG Comm. Session

BELLE GLADE—City Commission had a watery session Wednesday night as Mayor Walter Ashley, Commissioners Zack Ingram, H. O. Carlton, and Eugene Ellis dealt with several phases of Belle Glade water line.

First, after a general discussion concerning extending any more water lines outside the city limits, the Commissioners tabled for further study the request of residents of East Lake Terrace, off E. Palm Beach Rd. behind Glades Machine Corp. for a two-inch water line.

Former City Inspector N. B. Willis told Commissioners that within a year he hoped to be building in that subdivision and would require a four-inch loop line, but would want to be in the city limits to get the water service. Commissioners discussed annexing the area, chopping off for water service residents who wouldn't come in, but finally tabled the matter.

Canal Fill

On a second water problem, commissioners heard that 3,400 yards of rock, at an approximate cost of $3,500, would be required to fill in the canal on the Riedel property on the east side of the highway across from St. Philip's Church. Commission decided that with some 60 acres in that general area to be subdivided, to enter into an agreement to fill the canal with the stipulation that Riedel petition to come into the city limits.

A third water problem, the mess-up of city streets along the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District right-of-way, where the Hillsborough Canal is being widened and deepened, brought forth a letter. Commissioners decided to send the letter, offering to repair the streets if CSF pays for the materials, to the Flood Control District, asking some alternate suggestion for settlement if that

BG LIONS AIMING FOR BIG 'POOL' SALE

BELLE GLADE — Monday, the last 46 cattle of the Lions Club cattle project will be sold at Glades Livestock Market for the benefit of the Swimming Pool Fund, according to Garold McKee, cattle project chairman.

Starting with $28 in May of 1950, toward the swimming pool, the Lions have since bought 283 animals, sold 227, and lost 11 by lightning. On June 30 they will turn over all project income to the Fund, hoping that the sale Monday will bring them to the round, fat figure of $10,000.

4 Buy 35 Pahokee Certs.

PAHOKEE — Two buyers from Sebring and two from Pahokee bought up the 35 tax certificates remaining on the city's 1955 tax rolls Monday at public sale, according to City Clerk Dorothy Graham.

SOME OF THE OLD GUARD of Glades pioneers told Belle Glade Rotarians how it was "when" at last week's meeting. Holding a clear seniority was Mrs. Ross Winne, sr., the only lady in the picture, who came from the wilds of northern Ohio to the wilds of Southern Florida in 1912. Now of Chosen, the Winnes are former Island and Canal Point residents. L-r are M. F. Myers, of South Bay, who helped with the construction of Connor's Highway and built the first hotel in Belle Glade; J. Lodie Greer, who first arrived in 1916; Mrs. Winne; William "Pop" Evans, who said he acquired his land on a galleon basis, and Roscoe Braddock, program chairman.

July 4th Speaker Is Named

* * * *
BULLETIN

Rep. Paul Rogers, who has been assisting with plans for the Gladeswide Fourth of July celebration, yesterday informed OBSERVER that Col. Thomas H. Goodman, former supreme court justice of Tennessee, now regional director of civil defense for the seven Southeastern states, has accepted the invitation of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce to make a short address at the celebration.

* * * *

PAHOKEE—The Gladeswide Fourth of July celebration for all residents of the Lake area, sponsored by the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce, is rapidly shaping up, General Chairman Jane Rieker said yesterday. The Cee Jays Orchestra from Belle Glade and the Upthegrove Quartet with membership from Canal Point, Pahokee, and Belle Glade will donate their music for the special program beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Pahokee waterfront.

Members of the County Commission will be honored guests, and Rep. Paul Rogers is assisting with arranging for a guest speaker to give a brief talk, the chairman said.

Lions Barbecue

Glades residents who wish to eat before the program and fireworks can have barbecue served right at the waterfront or in case of rain at Pahokee Elks' Club by the Pahokee and Canal Point Lions. The barbecue is to benefit the sight-saving program and the Boy Scouts, and will cost $1 for adults, 50 cents for children. Duncan Padgett is general chairman, with J. M. Elliott in charge of ticket sales. Tickets may be purchased in the Belle Glade area at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

Leonard Dobrow will be master of ceremonies for the program. Serving on the arrangements committee are Milton Carpenter and A. E. Early, fireworks; Curtis Chase, loudspeakers and lights; Lewis Friend, Allie Okie, and Gene Pickren, platform construction and decoration; Bob McQueen and Louis F. Mims, color guard, with cooperation of the American Legion and the Boy Scouts; F. S. Parrish, Police Chief Leon Guthrie, and the Legion, parking.

NOT 'POOR'
W. A. Keen of Pahokee says this newspaper misquoted him in last week's Pahokee breakwater story. He did not refer to the Port Authority as "The poor Port Authority," he says, but stated that "We are paying millage to the Port Harbor of Palm Beach." The editor apologizes for letting her own satirical sense get in the way of accurate listening.

How's That Again?

From Palm Beach Post, Wed., June 22, story headed "Long-Range County Road Program Bared":

"... the program would include the entire southern, northern and immediate western sections of the area, and would eventually be expanded to include all of the vastly rich agricultural areas in the Glades territory."

Well, gee, fellows—thanks.

5 years? 10 years? 20 years?

Tch. And next year's election year.

BY WIN PENDLETON

THREE MILLION DOLLAR STORY: Two freshmen Florida Congressmen won the plaudits of the entire Congress last week for an unusual bit of fast legislative legerdemain. Congressmen Dante Fascell of Miami and Paul Rogers of West Palm Beach, teamed up to restore a cut of three million dollars in the appropriation for the Central and South Florida Flood Control District. The needed six million dollars had been trimmed by the committee to three million. And that was all there was to it.

The word "impossible" was used when they even suggested that something could be done about it. They were told that it would take a "floor fight" to do anything about it—but that such a thing just wasn't done in a case of this kind. There just weren't enough congressmen willing to buck the powerful appropriations committee. Fascell and Rogers ("we were too green to know it couldn't be done") set about to get supporters for their cause. They walked the corridors—they used the phone (they missed their lunch) and they made converts. They threw their money into an amendment—raised "old ned" on the floor in debate—and surprised everyone by having their amendment passed. It carried overwhelmingly by a voice vote. And two things happened. Both important to Florida. The three million dollars was restored, and Congress found out that Florida has two dynamic freshmen in Washington.

AMBITION: The rumor persists on Capitol Hill. The word is that the Republican National Committee is grooming Florida's only Republican Congressman—Bill Cramer—for a try for George Smathers' Senate seat. Cramer has certainly received more than his share of publicity and seems to be working harder than most Congressmen do just to hold their jobs. He acts like a fellow who has something else in mind.

There is no excuse for being soft in the head.

But who needs an excuse? Dogs are soft in the head less often than people. I think, but when dogs go soft they really melt.

Like this kid in my column—how he got here I can't explain. I have a very firm rule against people's pictures appearing here when I could use the space for a profile of myself.

However, this person was making a great noise when I saw him—outdoing me by sheer decibels.

I quit barking and growled. What's the matter? Taxes due again? You been reading international news? Just heard from the bank?

No, he bellered, I just don't know why you keep us kids out of your column. Why don't you SAY something about us? Me, for instance—I'm

And, well—that's the way it is.

Farmer Part Of Food Biz Change

WINTER PARK (special)—The farmer of today is taking part in quite a revolution in the food business, according to T. K. McClane, jr., executive vice president, Florida Farm Bureau.

"Within the past 15 years the number of Americans to feed has increased 25%, Mr. McClane said, but added that "the number of farmers has decreased 27% during the same period."

"It is obvious that the farmer today is producing far more than the pre-war farmer. Efficiency, and high yields per acre and per animal are responsible for this astonishing increase in productivity," he concluded.

CUBAN BEEF FOR FLORIDA MARKET

A Texas cattleman has blazed the trail for Cuban beef growers who are reported planning to invade the Florida market, Florida Grower and Rancher reports in its June issue.

Robert J. Kleberg, jr., of King Ranch, Tex., has been working three years in Cuba to raise A-1 beef, and to this end took over a 33,000-acre range owned by Manati Sugar Company in central Camaguey province near the port of Neuveitas. The land was made available on a 50-50 basis, Kleberg said. He has imported a thousand head of stock—Santa Gertrudis bulls and heifers, and has put much money into Cuban cows for crossbreeding.

Weddings and Engagements

CATE-BURDESHAW

Miss Charlotte Ann Cate became the bride of Daniel Wayne Burdeshaw in a candlelight ceremony at the Holy Nativity Episcopal Church in Pahokee Sunday, June 19, at 3 p.m., Rev. M. Wendell Hainlin, vicar, reading the vows for the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an altar banked with palms and decorated with baskets of white gladioli.

The altar rail was entwined with fern and white pompons and the family pews were marked with white satin bows. Mrs. H. C. Graham, organist, played nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Hugh Branch, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Pren M. Cate, jr., wore white embroidered organdy over taffeta and net. The gown featured a strapless bodice and fitted jacket with Peter Pan collar and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. The bouffant ballerina-length skirt was enhanced by a scalloped overskirt. The fingertip illusion veil was attached to a nylon cap embroidered with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, an heirloom of her godmother, Mrs. Otto R. Bleech. She carried a large white orchid nesting in a cluster of tiny orchids and white satin streamers on a white prayer book.

Miss Lovda Marion Williams, cousin of the bride and maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of aqua organdy over taffet and net. Cornelia Dowd Cate, the bride's sister and junior bridesmaid, wore orchid organdy over pink taffeta. Both attendants had matching hats of organdy and net and carried heart-shaped bouquets of pink carnations. John Price Burdeshaw, jr., of Lake Alfred, Fla., was his brother's best man. Ronnie Berry and Douglas Gillis served as ushers. Mrs. Robert F. Chamberlain, mother of the bride, chose a pink silk chiffon gown with toreni pink hat and accessories and Mrs. John Price Burdeshaw, sr., mother of the bridegroom, a mauve taffeta dress with white accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

The reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. T. Williams, 237 East Main St., with Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Chamberlain acting as hosts. Miss Joyce Lynn Hurt was in charge of the bride's book. Mrs. George Pearce, aunt of the bride, presided at the punchbowl while Mrs. Bleech served portions of a three-tiered wedding cake to the guests. They were assisted by Miss Barbara Vertommen. Piano music was played during the reception by the Misses Jeanine Mock and Ann Rita Burns.

For her traveling dress the bride selected peacock blue print silk with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Following their honeymoon in Nassau Mr. and Mrs. Burdeshaw will make their home in Pahokee.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Pearce of Marathon, uncle and aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mathis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker and family and William Cate, all of West Palm Beach, cousins of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. John Price Burdeshaw, jr., of Lake Alfred, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kelly and family of South Bay, his brother-in-law and sister.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of tulle over bridal satin, fashioned with a basque waist of Chantilly, with ruffles of tulle at the bodice top. The skirt, worn over crinoline and hoops, had an overskirt of tulle. With the gown she wore a matching jacket of Chantilly with long pointed sleeves and a pointed collar. The jacket buttoned down the front with tiny matching buttons. Her two-tier elbow length veil of illusion fell from a cap effect outlined in seed pearls, and embroidered with sequins. She carried a crescent bouquet of white roses, cane jasmine and white ribbons.

The attendants, Miss Rosalyn Farmer, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor; Miss Doris Burke, sister of the bride, and Miss Cynthia Slater, who were bridesmaids, and Miss Judy Farmer, sister of the bride who was junior bridesmaid, all wore similar gowns of yellow tulle over taffeta, cut waltz length. Hi-Fi Pervades Lion Meeting

PAHOKEE — Pahokee Lions ate their regular Tuesday luncheon in sweeping waves of "hi-fi" as Program Chairman Cecil Williams presented Ed Schrapp, West Palm Beach sound specialist.

Schrapp, with a high fidelity tuner hooked up with FM, AM, and hi-fi records, demonstrated the wide listening range of high fidelity and explained that by its range it brought the music lover right into the room with the musicians.

With President Clyde Canipe presiding, the Lions voted to write a letter of endorsement of construction of the Pahokee breakwater, in support of assistance from the Palm Beach Port Authority.

Dr. M. J. Luce reported that although the Pahokee-Canal Point goal of $1900 for the Gulfstream Boy Scout Council had been achieved only to the $500 mark, "That's $490 better than last year, and will help us pay our own way." Troop 28 Scoutmaster Louis F. Mims reported on troop activities, and said that the troop is continuing active and will remain so with the support of leaders and the public.

Rail oddities

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO, RULE 12 OF THE VIRGINIA & TENNESSEE RAILROAD PROVIDED THAT "CONDUCTORS AND OTHER TRAINMEN MUST NOT ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE PASSENGERS IN FAVOR OF CERTAIN SALOONS BUT MUST ACT IMPARTIALLY IN THIS RESPECT."

OPERATING RULES OF THE OLD DAYTON COAL & IRON RAILROAD SPECIFIED THAT "ALL TRAINS WILL LEAVE ON TIME; NO COLLISIONS ALLOWED; TRAINS WILL STOP BEFORE RUNNING OVER LIVESTOCK."

ANOTHER RULE OF THE SAME RAILROAD WAS THAT "PASSENGER CONDUCTORS MUST WEAR SHOES WHILE ON DUTY, SOCKS NOT REQUIRED."

Rec. Program Is At 170 Thus Far

BELLE GLADE—Registration has reached 170 for the summer recreation program, with a total of 250 anticipated as the program continues, Supervisor John McCaskill said this week.

Of the total thus far, the largest group—75 children—is the five and a half to 10-year age range.

The program got into full swing Tuesday morning, and will continue for six weeks, five days each week from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5 each day. Included is a complete program of indoor and outdoor activities, for both boys and girls. Director Hector Ouellette has started a beginning class in swimming on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at the Pahokee pool for which about 54 were present Tuesday. Most of these were girls.

The highlight of this week's program will be the wheel parade this afternoon from 1 to 3. All children and teen-agers are invited to enter this parade with any vehicle or object having wheels which can be ridden or propelled through the parade route, down Ave. A, down South Main St. to the park.

Ladybirds Sock In Sat.

PAHOKEE — The soupy weather last week brought into Pahokee Airport a pair of women fliers participating in the International Women's Air Race. Miss Louise Smith, of High Point, N. C., and Miss Stone, Greenville, S. C. came down out of the rain and overcast to set their Beechcraft Bonanza tidily on the paved strip. Sam Belk welcomed them. Later they went on to Key West, from which the race continued to Havana.

before the 23th day of July, 1955. If you fail to do so, judgment or decree by default will be taken against you for the relief demanded in the Complaint.

BELLE GLADE — The Girl Scout Central Committee, meeting at the hut Friday evening, elected to serve for next year as chairman, Mrs. R. J. Allen, jr.; vice chairman, Mrs. Richard Hodges; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Larry Royal.

Operation of girl scout troops next year was discussed, and the acute problem of leaders was considered. Since nearly all of this year's leaders will not be taking troops next year, leadership is needed for all troops. Parents' meetings will Open house will be held tomorrow from 2 to 4 p.m. at the established Girl Scout Camp in Jupiter. All who are interested in seeing the facilities of the camp are invited to attend. The route from the center of Jupiter will be well marked.

SO. BAY SUMMER REC

Look- 4 Doors and no center posts!

It's the new kind of hardtop—The 4-Door Riviera!

You drop the side windows down on this airy beauty of a Buick with the solid steel roof—and it's as wide open as a Convertible, with no center posts to mar your view.

That's what makes it a hardtop.

But what makes it a very special kind of hardtop is the fact that it has four doors instead of two.

Cheers? Brother! — they're really rolling out for Buick's 4-Door Riviera!

Now, you see, you can have the tremendously popular styling of a true hardtop combined with the room, comfort and full convenience of a 4-door Sedan.

And it took a completely new kind of body design to come up with this marvel—a new kind of body built to wholly new structural principles.

So it looks like Buick's done it again — because the 4-Door Riviera is a sweeping sensation across the nation.

It's rolling off the assembly lines in volume numbers to meet the demand — in the high-powered CENTURY Series, and in the bedrock-priced SPECIAL Series, illustrated here.

And each one is all Buick—with record-high V8 power, the level steadiness of all-coil-springing, the extra roominess of a full-size Buick Sedan—and, most certainly, with the instantaneous getaway response and bettered gas mileage of Buick's spectacular new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Come in for a look at the brand-new kind of hardtop—the 4-Door Riviera. You'll find it priced at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door model—and a buy too thrilling to pass up.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

She was assured that a new shipment was en route to the company at that time and that as soon as it was received her order would be filled and forwarded to her with delay.

Satisfaction and peace of mind was Joy's and a phone bill was Mr. and Mrs. Whitehurst's.

1955 HOSPITAL A COMBINATION

(ED. NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles published in the public interest on modern hospitals.)

A modern hospital is a health team, it is a restaurant, it is an educational institution, it is a place of refuge for the ill and injured.

Hospital "business" is big business, but its aim is not commercial but human. With few exceptions hospitals are non-profit operations, organized to meet the needs of human suffering. Hospital care is an essential community service and according to the booklet Today's Hospital, hospital services are expanding in the United States at an unprecedented rate.

Facilities for the care of the sick have not always offered services to communities such as the public has come to expect. The first hospital in North America was built in 1524 in Mexico City by Cortez. In Canada a hospital was founded in Quebec in 1639. In 1658 the Dutch West India Company established the first hospital in what is now the United States. These establishments were hospitals in the sense that they gave accommodations to the infirm or the sick and were conducted on a charitable basis. They were not hospitals in the modern usage of the word meaning a place for the care and treatment of the sick and injured.

18th Century Refuges
Before the Revolutionary War, isolated refuges were provided in Philadelphia, Boston, New York and Charleston for the care of shipboard victims of contagious diseases.

In some communities private hospitals were provided by physicians for the care of their own patients. In Philadelphia the Pennsylvania Hospital grew out of Benjamin Franklin's efforts to assist physicians in better caring for their patients. Franklin was the first secretary of the hospital's board of managers. The institution was the first to be incorporated for the care of the physically and mentally ill, without regard for economic status, race or creed.

Most hospitals in the United States in the early 19th century facilitated the spread of disease. This was the dark period for hospitals in this country. Mortality from surgical operations was normally 100%. It was not until after 1875 that a change in the organization, management and technique of hospital organization changed deplorable conditions into better ones. Along with administrative and architectural changes there were medical developments in the fields of surgery and the treatment of disease. Asepsis, the state of being free of bacteria, was a milestone in hospital progress.

19th Century Progress
Hospital progress in terms of institutions and facts and buildings has its place, but the accomplishments fostered by Florence Nightingale, the "lady with the lamp" around whose birthday on May 12 National Hospital Week is recognized cannot be overlooked.

Sent by the British government to the Crimea to take care of sick and wounded during the Crimean war in which the famous "Charge of the Light Brigade" took place, Miss Nightinggale brought order and cleanliness to her hospital. It has been said that her work resulted in reducing the death rate from 40% to 2%. It was she who developed principles of sanitation and hygiene that made the modern hospital possible. She brought dignity to the nursing profession by her example.

American hospitals changed greatly in purpose during the last half of the past century. From refuges for the indigent they came to be centers of treatment for the then common communicable diseases. Research in scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid helped to reduce these killers. Bacteriological discoveries and the work of Pasteur and Roentgen emphasized the need for public support centers for care and study of disease.

By the 20th Century the bases of modern hospital administrative and functional responsibilities were established and public interest to the extent of grants of Federal funds for care of the sick came to be accepted practice.

Hospitals have come a long way from the poorly-lighted, disease-ridden buildings of 200 years ago, and they can continue to progress as the public realizes their function in and importance to the community.

TAXPAYERS CAN SAVE MILLIONS ANNUALLY IF PARCEL POST SHIPPERS PAY HIDDEN COSTS

Although an estimated 60 million taxpayers will have contributed directly to their government's support this year, the gap between the federal income and expense continues. Each week the Government goes another $86,000,000 in the red.

Taxpayers can take considerable comfort from the fact that although the national debt is in excess of $275 billion, efforts are being taken to pare costs and reduce deficits in as many government operations as possible.

Recent studies have turned up numerous instances where government departments can eliminate unnecessary spending of the taxpayers' money. One of these areas with which the Congress has been concerned in recent years is the Post Office Department.

Considerable savings would result if recommendations made last year by the Post Office Department and others eventually are adopted. The proposals would require that more than $150 million a year in "hidden costs" be included in Post Office financial reports.

It is ironic that although the Post Office Department long has been eager to pull itself out of the red, a considerable portion of the postal deficit has been due to fourth class-parcel post—the only class of mail required by law to pay its own way. Post Office financial reports show continuing losses.

Since 1926 the reported losses on this class of mail have amounted to $1.2 billion—$890 million in the last nine fiscal years alone. For just one year the interest on this sum amounts to more than $30 million. And, although Congressional action resulted in parcel post increases that went into effect in October 1953, the taxpayer still bears the load of hidden costs—expenditures for services and facilities provided to the Post Office Department by other government departments which do not appear in Post Office accounts.

Just how big have these hidden costs been? For fourth class mail they were $200 million for 1947-1951, and with the reported deficit the total taxpayer outlay came to $720 million for that five year period before Congress completed its investigations. For every dollar shippers spent on parcel post during that period almost 42c had to be added by the taxpayer to make up the difference between what the shipper paid and what it cost the government to provide the service. Even at present rates the taxpayer has to add 7½c to each dollar spent by shippers—that means that the taxpayer is subsidizing the shipment of commercial merchandise.

If all costs properly attributable to fourth class mail were included in post office reports, rates could be adjusted accordingly, and taxpayers would be able to see their annual assessments reduced in just this one instance by more than $43 million.

WATERY—

method was not approved.

Along still another watery line, Mayor Ashley asked that the city put a permanent alternate pump on the golf course because the 10-year-old pump now in use is subject to breakdowns. Ashley pointed out that in the past it has cost the city more money to fix up the fairways and city equipment after moving a temporary pump in and out than a permanent pump would cost.

Other Action

In other actions, Commissioners:

GRANTED the City of South Bay permission to use the Belle Glade city dump, contingent on arrival at a satisfactory charge

AWARDED for the next three-month period the servicing of city automotive equipment to Charlie's Standard Service, and agreed with Commissioner Ingram that each and every station servicing equipment be held responsible for its work;

ACCEPTED the $255 bid of Police Chief Charles D. Goodlett for the small building at the rear of City Hall;
